Serious concerns over European Parliament debate and resolution on "Islamist Entryism"

Dear President Metsola,

We, the undersigned civil society organisations, are writing to raise our serious concerns about the racist and Islamophobic language used by members of the European Parliament during the debate on the resolution on "Islamist entryism" and the Muslim Brotherhood on 7 October, in violation of Rule 10 of the European Parliament's Rules of Procedure.[1]

During the debate, several members of the European Parliament used defamatory language, hate speech, and incitement to discrimination, in violation of Article 21 of the Charter of Fundamental Rights.[2] The harmful rhetoric included accusing Muslims of "infiltrating our democratic system like a creeping poison,"[3] and calls to "combat Islam's influence on our daily lives and on our society"[4] and to close prayer rooms, ban headscarves and halal food, and deport Muslims who "place the Quran above the constitution."[5] This rhetoric further fuels hatred, stigmatisation, and criminalisation of millions of people across Europe based on their perceived religion or origin, at a time when these communities are already facing an alarming rise in discrimination, hostility, and violence.[6]

Concerningly, during the debate several members singled out the Forum of European Muslim Youth and Student Organisations (FEMYSO) – also named in the resolution and in the European Parliament's press release.[7] One MEP likened the organisation to a "Trojan horse" and accused it of infiltrating European Institutions.[8] FEMYSO categorically rejects these defamatory accusations. Far from the characterisation presented, FEMYSO has had longstanding engagement and participation with the European Parliament and with other EU institutions. Since 2016, it has participated in the European Youth Event and has been subjected to harassment and attacks during the EYE in 2021,[9]

2023,[10] and 2025.[11] In September 2026, it held the European Action Day Against Islamophobia (EADAI) inside the Parliament, alongside an MEP, during which ECR representatives harassed its participants.[12]

Furthermore, we are seriously concerned that this Islamophobic resolution seeks to delegitimise civil society by singling out anti-racism organisations, including FEMYSO and the European Network Against Racism (ENAR),[13] due to their work addressing Islamophobia and advocating for the equal access to rights for Muslim people, including youth and students, across Europe. This attempt goes against EU values, in particular Articles 2 and 11 of the Treaty on European Union (TEU).

The adoption of this resolution could lead to restricting the participation, access and funding of these leading organisations working with Muslim youth and communities. It relies on vague and unsubstantiated allegations – repeatedly denied and debunked by credible and established sources[14] – as a justification for restricting an organisation's access to European institutions and funding. Concerningly, it treats the ordinary activities of civil society as possible indicators of "entryism". CSOs, including youth organisations, routinely take part in public debate, advocate policy positions, and engage in democratic decision-making. These are normal and desirable features of an open society, not evidence of wrongdoing.

It is also important to note that ENAR recently lost its structural funding from the European Commission.[15] Against this backdrop, the resolution explicitly calls for EU funding to be withheld from ENAR and other organisations named in the text, raising further concerns about the mounting political and financial pressures facing independent anti-racist civil society organisations in Europe.

Taken together, this resolution creates a circular dynamic: an organisation documents anti-Muslim racism and discrimination; its work is subsequently characterised as the "instrumentalisation of anti-discrimination frameworks"; and that very characterisation is then used to justify its exclusion from the institutions it seeks to hold accountable. In doing so, this debate and the resolution legitimises, normalises, and institutionalises the harassment and marginalisation of civil society organisations whose work challenges racism and discrimination.[16]

Furthermore, the resolution and the broader political discourse surrounding its adoption undermines recent initiatives of the European Commission, such as the EU Anti-Racism Strategy 2026-2030 – which explicitly recognises anti-Muslim hatred as a form of racism[17] – and the EU Civil Society

[13] ENAR continues to play a crucial role in promoting equality in Europe and has helped deliver the Race Equality Directive, the Employment Directive, pushed for the Anti-Racism Action Plan after George Floyd's murder, and served as a key stakeholder for the European Commission's first Anti-Racism Strategy.

Strategy.[18] It also runs counter to the Council of the EU's recently adopted Conclusions on combating racism which recognises anti-Muslim hatred as a specific form of discrimination that requires sustained attention in national and EU-level strategies.[19] This is particularly concerning given the findings of the EU FRA 2024 report, Being Muslim in the EU, which revealed that 47% of Muslim respondents had experienced racial discrimination in the preceding five years.[20]

In light of this, we call on you to urgently condemn the incitement to discrimination and hate speech by members of the Parliament and reject any calls to criminalise or discredit Muslim civil society organisations packaged as a "strategy to counter Islamist entryism" by:

- Formally taking necessary action in response to the hate speech within the debate, as per rules 183 and 184 of the Rules of Procedure and condemn the targeting of Muslim civil society.
- Arranging a meeting with FEMYSO, CCIE, and ENAR representatives to discuss the resolution, the allegations concerning the organisations, and the implications for Muslim participation in European democratic life.

We urge you, as President of the European Parliament, to ensure that the principles of anti-discrimination and equality that the Parliament seeks to defend are reflected in its treatment of all parts of European civil society.

We look forward to your response.
